

NUBLO ROBOTEN

Nublo Roboten is a solo project based in Guatemala City created by David Chang, a modular synthesizer enthusiast who is always keen to deliver authentic analog sounds.

Described as danceable, mechanical, raw, and instinctive music, Nublo Roboten has earned its place in today's minimal synth and underground electronic music scene around the globe, with live performances in Guatemala, Mexico, El Salvador, Colombia, and Germany.

Nublo Roboten's music has also been broadcast on several radio stations around the world, in countries like The United States, France, New Zealand, Australia, Italy, Japan, and many more.

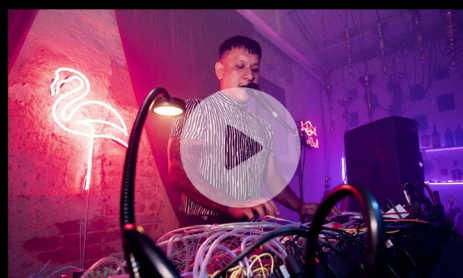

The idea of a synth music project started in 2016 after several attempts to start a synthpunk band with some friends. Since the idea of a band didn't work out, alone in his bedroom, David kept experimenting and composing songs.

Nublo Roboten became a reality after years of work with the Guatemala-based and iconic all-vinyl party, Onda Siniestra, dedicated to the showcasing of minimal synth and coldwave.

Today, there is a new long play in the works. The album's mix is complete and will soon be released on all digital platforms and also printed on vinyl by the legendary and unique record label dedicated to this music genre, Kernkrach Records!
